88,000 Striking Coal Miners Remain Idle

Stick To 'No Contract, No Work'

Pittsburgh, Jan. 28—(AP)—Peace talks or no, it appears that the bulk of the nation's 88,000 striking coal miners will cling to their traditional policy of "no contract no work."

That was the pace set today by the big Robena local at a meeting in Uniontown, Pa. John Ozanich, president of the local, drew cheers and shouts of approval from more than 1,000 of his followers.

5 Days or None
He said there will be no work until they get a contract that will permit them to work five days a week.

John L. Lewis now has the miners on a three day week.

Ozanich declared:

"The men are going to stay out. That's all there is to it."

Miners reported Ozanich said UMW district leader William Hynes threatened suspension to any Robena miners who continue to strike.

Ozanich said these reports are incorrect.

"Mr. Hynes' name was never mentioned," he said.

Early reports from the core of the strike in southwestern Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia indicated many of the other rebellious diggers will follow Robena's lead.

Flurry Of Phone Calls
There was a flurry of telephone calls after the Robena meeting as word went out to other locals in the uniontown area that the Robena diggers will not work. Some of them scheduled meetings to discuss the development. Many of them immediately held off action pending the Robena decision. Robena is the largest UMW local.

There was optimistic reaction in some coal circles to the announcement of renewal of contract talks next Wednesday between Lewis and representatives of northern and western operators.

But it made hardly a dent in the solid front of the balking diggers.

It wasn't even mentioned at the Robena meeting.

UMW Officials Unavailable
Hynes, as well as other top UMW officials in the field, were unavailable for comment.

There was no sign of peace talks between the union and southern operators.

Lewis is scheduled to appear Wednesday in Washington before federal Judge Richmond B. Keen who will hear a national labor relations board petition for an injunction to end the three-day week.

His meeting with the operators is slated for the same date.

The present strike, coming in the wake of a wave of stoppages and curbing work schedules in 1949, actually began the first week of the new year. But then it centered in Illinois.

Reads Ad, Brings 2,000 Rubles To Buy Used Auto

East Liverpool, O., Jan. 28—(AP)—A woman who tried to buy an automobile with worthless Russian rubles demanded today that the car be delivered as advertised.

Only this week, fire damaged Mrs. Ruth Ray's old car. So she was pleased when she read an advertisement in the East Liverpool Review which said:

"1947 Dodge coupe for sale at a bargain price of 1,275 rubles."

The ad was joking and listed such extras as a "Siberian radio" and a "salt mine heater." It meant dollars, not rubles.

Mrs. Ray, however, took it in dead earnest. She happened to have two 1,000 Russian ruble notes brought back from China by her husband, Edward, an ex-Marine.

The next day she appeared in the showroom of auto dealer Eddie Lane, plunked down the rubles and demanded the car.

Lane was dumfounded. The ad had been written by a man in the newspaper's advertising department and Lane was unaware of the jesting tone.

The car belonged to his brother-in-law, Louis Hassall.

2 LUTHERAN CHURCH GROUPS OKAY MERGER

St. Louis, Jan. 28—(AP)—Representatives of the American Lutheran church and the Lutheran church-Missouri synod have reached an agreement to unite the two groups. The agreement is subject to approval by delegates at national conventions of the two church bodies this year.

The American Lutheran church has a reported membership of 689,310. The Lutheran church-Missouri synod estimated its members at 1,690,000.

Red Spring Offensive In Cold War Expected

Washington, Jan. 28—(AP)—A new sure on Americans in China, and the Russian-Communist spring offensive in the cold war is now expected by many informed Washington officials. Whether the main move will come in southeast Asia, the middle east or central Europe is not predicted. But some authorities believe the planning of strategy may be an important item in the current prolonged Moscow meeting of the leaders of red China and Russia.

This view is reportedly held even by those who contend, along with Secretary of State Acheson, that Russia is alienating the Chinese by taking over huge areas of Northern China. The assumption is that the conflict between Russia and China will develop slowly while there common interest in spreading Communism power is already full grown.

State department experts appear divided on the question of what forces actually are most important in Russian policy at the moment.

They seek a common denominator for a wide range of actions, including the Soviet squeeze on western Europe, Bulgaria's move to the west, the demand for withdrawal of the American minister at Sofia, the pressing forward.

But on the board of Communist Russian pushing and probing at points, some officials here believe the indication is this:

That an important driving force in present Russian policy is a tremendous sense of triumph born out of the victory of China. By this line of reasoning Russia is now preoccupied in Germany, Bulgaria's move to the west, the demand for withdrawal of the American minister at Sofia, the pressing forward.

Babcock, Whom 2 Women Claimed As Husband, Buried

Washington, Jan. 28—(AP)—Col. William Babcock, whom two women claimed as husband, was buried today as they looked on at Arlington National cemetery.

Babcock, deputy American commissioner for Berlin, died of a heart attack at the German City Monday. He was 52 years old.

At the funeral service at Fort Myer Army chapel, the two women sat tensely a few feet apart in the mourners' row.

One of them was Florence Mary-Jean Babcock, who accompanied the colonel's body on the flight from Germany. She said they were married in 1945 and have a three-year-old son.

The other was Mary Magdalene Babcock of New London, Conn., who said she and the colonel had been married 34 years and never divorced. Two married daughters and a son accompanied her to the services.

The two women did not speak to each other.

The woman from Berlin was driven to the chapel in a State Department car. An Army captain and a Navy lieutenant were assigned as her escorts. Wearing a widow's veil, she stood beneath a canopy at the graveside committal services.

Gestapo Is Returning To Eastern Germany

Howling Blizzard Hits Northwestern States

By The Associated Press
A howling blizzard whipped across the Canadian border into the Dakotas Saturday and a new blast of arctic air stung the gale-battered Pacific northwest.

Early risers in Rapid City, S. D., found the temperature a mild 40 degrees at 6:30 a.m. Then a 60 mile an hour gale hit the city, kicking up blinding clouds of snow and driving the mercury down to one degree below zero within three hours.

The norther stirred up blizzard conditions at many points in the Dakotas. More intense cold was moving down behind the winds and forecasters predicted the mercury would not rise above -20 Sunday in parts of Minnesota.

Milder colder weather was heading eastward toward the Great Lakes area, with a sharp drop in temperature forecast for Sunday.

A fast moving cold front rolled down the Pacific coast from Canada. The mercury skidded to -11 in Spokane. Forecasters said freezing weather might reach the southern California citrus areas by Sunday.

A Southern Pacific locomotive and a freight car were derailed in a blizzard in Oregon's Cascade mountains. The tieup stranded two Southern Pacific passenger trains running between Portland, Ore., and San Francisco. North and south bound Shasta Daylight trains were cancelled Saturday.

Travel was restricted on snow-clogged highways. Snow fell as far south as Red Bluff in the Sacramento valley.

Cooler air from the midwest ended a freak spell of June-in-January weather in the east. Temperatures topped all along the eastern seaboard except in Florida.

Temperatures started skidding in Oregon and northern California, on the heels of a triple battering from wind, snow and heavy rain that caused at least one death.

Gales of 50 miles an hour lashed the coast Friday from Monterey Bay in California to Cape Blanco in southern Oregon. The winds toppled utility poles in northwestern California leaving several Humboldt county communities without power or telephone service.

LET THE NATIVES DECIDE

That is a fine idea that Senator Vandenberg has for solution of the Formosa problem—let the natives decide.
Chiang Kai-shek's crowd really has no business on Formosa. Although this island was once held by China, and the wartime decision was to return it to China, the transfer wasn't supposed to take place until the peace treaty was written. But Chiang's men moved in at once and started fattening themselves on patronage and graft. In consequence, the unarmed Formosans revolted and many were shot down by Chiang's troops.
Now it is reported he has ousted the crooks and set up a popular regime. He should be given more time to demonstrate the sincerity of his conversion to honesty. And the people should be allowed to decide whether they want to be ruled by Chiang, the Japanese, the Communists, a United Nations trusteeship or their own elected officials.
Although that doesn't carry out the wartime pledge, the treaty has not been written and circumstances have changed.

From here, it looks like a UN trusteeship would offer the best prospects for the Formosans, since they have had practically no experience in self-government and need tutoring. In fact, that seems to be the answer for a large part of the far east, but native pride forbids it in some places and it is too late where the Communists have clamped their heel.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Infection Source Hard To Trace In Some Cases

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
The idea that infection in such places as the teeth or tonsils could cause trouble elsewhere in the body is old but the late Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago had much to do with its modern study.

The early studies by Billings and his co-workers indicated that many patients with chronic arthritis, chronic infection of the kidneys and various other infections were relieved after the removal of an abscessed tooth or infected tonsils or after treatment of other chronic infections.

Now these reports started a terrific hunt for infected teeth, tonsils, gallbladder, sinus, and the like, in the hope that nearly every disease would clear up if only one could find the true source of the infection in some distant location.

The enthusiasm for this search went much faster and farther than the facts justified. Teeth were removed wholesale and tonsils were cut out without any real sign of infection.

Went Too Far
The results of all this cutting and removal was inevitable. The pendulum swung in the opposite direction and many physicians came to feel that there was nothing in focal infection (the name given to this theory) at all.

Probably this has led, at least in some instances, to leaving bad tonsils or a tooth with a root abscess in place when they should have come out to the benefit of some cases of sciatica, arthritis or similar disorders.

There is no method by which one can trace the poison going from one place to another. The decision has to be made in each case on its merits. I know that if I had a certain kind of sciatica, arthritis or arthritis and also had a definitely abscessed tooth, I should have the tooth out even knowing that this might not cure the condition.

At present a reasonable approach to focal infection is coming to be accepted. It is almost certainly possible for poisons and perhaps even germs to be absorbed into the system from an abscessed tooth or diseased tonsils. In some cases this absorption probably causes symptoms elsewhere in the body.

If the infected tissue is removed or treated early enough the symptoms elsewhere may clear up entirely. The problem is to decide what kinds of symptoms may be relieved by such action and whether it is justified in a particular case.

Let's Save The Common Cold

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Have you noticed what science is up to now? It's trying to destroy man's best friend—the common cold.
This is rank ingratitude to an ailment that has helped more people than it has hurt. For modern society is built on the common cold, real or imaginary, and it fills many necessary functions.
There is a great tumult raging in medical circles as to whether the new anti-histamine drugs will cure the common cold.
Who cares? Who wants it cured anyway? Pneumonia, influenza, bronchitis, asthma—these are real diseases that threaten lives and should be attacked without mercy.
But why pick on the common cold?
The misguided people who want to get rid of it use the same argument as those who advocated prohibition 30 years ago. The main argument is economic—that colds cost some $420,000,000 a year in lost wages.

The idea is that, if colds are stopped, people won't miss work and they will have $420,000,000 more with which to buy homes, orchids, toy trains and Shetland ponies.
What nonsense, really!
How many "colds" are caused by germs? Only a fraction—as most physicians know. A cold is really a camouflage name to describe hangovers, laziness, deep fatigue, spring fever, an unwillingness to face problems at the office.
Will any drugs, anti-histamine or otherwise, cure all these things? Well, that is the real problem of the common cold.
At present if you don't want to play bridge or attend a boring cocktail party, you just put a towel over your mouth, go to the phone, and mumble to the hostess:
"Sorry, can't make it, got a code in my head."
Who wants her to chirp back, "on, don't worry, I'll send you over some anti-histamines. They'll fix you up right away, and you'll be able to come."
Right now the plain, everyday cold is a better excuse than television to stay home—and stay healthy.
Cure the common cold and folks will have to develop another ailment—one that might really make them sick. For people—such is the power of mind over germs—usually develop the ailments they pretend to have.
Let's keep the good old cold.

After Forty: Stimulate Circulation

A friction mitt makes a good aid for stimulating circulation. It is softened before use with a dash of refreshing skin lotion (left). Then it is stroked vigorously over the skin starting up from the toes (center); and from fingertips to shoulders (right).

Many mature women look and feel older than their years because of a slowing down of circulation which is apt to manifest itself during middle age. Because strenuous exercise is usually ruled out after 40, circulation may be stimulated by less drastic and equally beneficial means. One of the best ways is the friction rubdown after your bath. Best aid to a good rubdown is a coarse-textured mitt of goat's hair or nubby mitt on your hand for the rubdown, pour a small amount of cologne or lotion into the cupped palm to soften up the fabric slightly. Then work the mitt over the skin in brisk, vigorous strokes starting upwards from the toes. In using the mitt on the arms, begin at the fingertips and stroke towards the shoulders. Because this stroking speeds blood to skin surfaces, you'll be rewarded for your efforts by a glowing complexion instead of the former pallor. Better circulation of blood also helps to relax tense muscles.

By moving two inches in the right direction, nearly any woman can improve her appearance.

Try pulling your shoulders back two inches. You will get a lifted chest line, and a flattened waistline, and you will feel fresher. Tuck your stomach in two inches and place it where it belongs—under the ribs. Now, take a look at your profile, full view, in the mirror. With that stomach kept in line, a woman looks trimmer, and usually years younger.

Perhaps your neck seems settled too low on your shoulders. Pull it up, straight ad back, two inches and see a miracle performed. The hump will be gone, and your silhouette will be immeasurably improved.

If your hips are prominent, tuck them under a couple of inches. You will see the difference at once. Your proportions will be more to your liking and your clothes will fit better.

Nothing can take the place of exercise in creating a good figure. But even women who have exercised their way to slimmest must keep in mind the two-inch rule. Otherwise poor posture will cancel out all of the figure-improving benefits of exercise.

If green peppers are available in your market cut one or two in thin strips and saute in a little butter or margarine to serve with hamburgers, veal chops, or minute steak. Accompany the dish with fluffy mashed potatoes.

Adding a teaspoon or two of paprika to the seasoned flour in which you dip chicken for frying or baking helps to give the chicken pieces a rich brown color after they are cooked.

Give Glamor To Clipped Cut

Pearls and velvet ribbon change this short bob from daytime efficiency to evening elegance.

With a few twists of the wrists and some odds and ends from a jewelry box, any woman can change a short hair-do from daytime simplicity to evening glamor, according to Manhattan hair stylist Jean De Chant.

He suggests, for example, that a double strand pearl necklace be intertwined with black velvet ribbon to create the "prima donna" look for short hair which has been snipped just below the ear lobes. Hair this length can be brushed up and swirled in the back which will give the illusion of long hair swept high.

Another De Chant treatment for short hair is the use of a length of pastel tulle wrapped about the head in much the same manner as the pearls and finished off with a glitter brooch or tiny scatter pins.

A third treatment can be in brushing all of the hair into a soft roll atop the head, either away from or toward the face, and crossing two decorative hatpins in the roll for an exotic touch.

The best lengths for short hair, this stylist thinks, is about two and a half inches, a length which is both smart and easily adaptable. He also advises frequent pin-curling between shampoos, to prevent straggly ends.

'Face Peeling' Foils Wintry Cold
By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Winter's excessively dry cold and the accompanying indoor dry heat are the worst enemies of dry skin. There are only two ways to combat them: by peeling and creaming, according to Ann Delafield, director of a beauty success school.

"Dry skin wrinkles faster if the horny epidermis is left on it," Miss Delafield explains. "So that means getting rid of it. The only really effective method is peeling with a special preparation, easily obtainable at any cosmetics counter. Every skin over thirty should be peeled—summer and winter."

Peeling means using a special preparation on the face and throat at night. It is dampened on the palms, rubbed over face and neck, and then removed with a dry wash cloth as they begin to dry. The preparation is followed by a rich night cream. The direct result: a softer, smoother skin, less prone to wrinkle.

"A dry skin needs a creamy make-up base in winter," Miss Delafield says. "Women with dry skins never should use a pancake base, which is right only for oily skins. A pancake base is drying, where a liquid base acts as a protective coating against the elements."

Gift Of Iowa Couple Is Valued At Several Hundred Thousand

The estate of Judge William Gardner, who died at his Red Oak, Iowa, home on January 1, has been left to Illinois college, according to the terms of his will which has been admitted to the Montgomery county, Iowa, probate court.

Although the value of the estate has not yet been determined, its worth is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. It consists of some 3,200 acres of Iowa farm land, residence property and a substantial amount in cash and securities.

The bequest is left as a memorial to Judge Gardner and his wife, Charlotte, who died in 1947 at the age of 85. By provisions of the will, the principal is to be kept intact for endowment of the college, only the income to be used for educational purposes.

This is by far the largest gift or bequest the college has ever received.

President H. Gary Hudson of the college returned from a trip to Red Oak late Friday. He and Mrs. Hudson had attended the funeral for Judge Gardner January 3.

Judge Gardner was 88 years old. When he was 30 he was appointed to the Circuit bench of South Dakota and also was elected to South Dakota's second legislature. Previously he was a member of the faculty of the Young Ladies Athenaeum in Jacksonville. He was graduated from Illinois College in 1884, and received his master of arts degree from the college in 1887.

Born In Canada
William Gardner was born August 1, 1861, on a farm near Owen Sound, in upper Ontario along the Georgian Bay. His father was a Scotch coal miner who has emigrated to Pennsylvania and later to Canada. When he was seven, his parents moved to a farm near Newton, Iowa. He entered Mitchellville academy, Mitchellville, Iowa, from which he was graduated in 1880.

For the next four years Gardner taught English history, literature and Latin at the Young Ladies Athenaeum. He entered Illinois College in 1882, where he was a member of Phi Alpha men's literary society. After graduation from Illinois college, Gardner enrolled in advanced studies for one year at Johns Hopkins university. He then studied law in the Minneapolis office of the late Judge Robert D. Russell, a graduate of Illinois College in 1871, previously a resident of Jacksonville and a trustee of the college.

In 1887, at the age of 26, Gardner was admitted to the bar and established his law practice in Rapid City, then a bustling frontier town on the western border of the South Dakota territory. South Dakota became a state in 1889, and Gardner was elected in 1891 to the second legislature.

In 1894 he married Charlotte Clark. At the turn of the century Judge and Mrs. Gardner moved to Minneapolis. The Gardners later acquired large holdings of Iowa land which they stocked with purebred Hereford cattle. In 1920 they moved to Red Oak in order to supervise the farms, and there built a home.

Judge Gardner is the author of "Life of Stephen A. Douglas," published in 1905 and still regarded as one of the best studies ever made of the 19th century statesman. In his later years he was at work on an appreciation and critical study of Thomas Carlyle. His extensive library of his Red Oak home was the library of a scholar.

In 1942 he received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Huron college, Huron, S. D., in recognition of his legal and legislative work in that state. In 1943 Illinois college conferred upon him the degree doctor of letters, and in 1947 Grinnell college honored him with a doctor of laws degree.

He is survived by a brother, Judge Archibald K. Gardner, senior judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Eighth Circuit, by another brother residing in Los Angeles, and by a sister in Seattle.

Indiana Chorus Of 40 Men Will Sing At J.H.S. Feb. 6th

Forty outstanding singers compose the personnel of the Indiana University Men's Concert choir which will sing Monday evening, Feb. 6, at Jacksonville High school, under auspices of the Band Parents' club of this city. The choir is making its annual midwinter tour of a number of cities in Indiana and Illinois.

Directed by Prof. George F. Krueger, the choir is one of the most popular singing groups on the campus, and for the past several years has been in great demand over the state for public concerts and appearances at civic functions, fraternal organizations, etc. During their tour last year the choir presented 17 concerts in eight days. In addition to the tour, the choir sang in 14 cities in Indiana and Illinois and presented a full schedule of appearances on the I. U. campus.

The Men's Concert choir sings a varied program, ranging from the great religious works of the 16th century to the present day. The Negro spiritual is always a favorite with male choral groups, and the I. U. choir, being no exception to the rule, include a generous helping of spirituals in its program. Other items include American work-songs and folk-songs and modern popular selections.

COMMUNICATION

During the last year I have interviewed a great number of teen-agers, a few of whom had been pilfering automobiles parked in parking lots on streets and in alleys, taking from the glove compartments such items as gloves, flashlights, and other articles. Most of these cars were parked where there was little light, and equally little chance of being detected. But the doors of these cars were admittedly left unlocked, and that in itself was a temptation to the kids.

Ironically enough, some car owners are not satisfied with just leaving their automobiles unlocked, but they leave the keys dangling in the switch, which makes it doubly tempting to a youngster who craves for a ride, regardless of cost or consequences. It is like placing a plate of steaming ham and French fried potatoes before a starving man and expecting him not to touch it. But this is not even the extent of people's carelessness, because some time ago a station wagon was left parked on West State Street with the motor running for approximately two hours, without a single occupant in the car, and if a young fellow with a twisted craving for adventure had noticed that, we are fully aware of what would have happened, and the owner of the car, in my judgment, would have been guilty of contributing to the delinquency of that person. I think that altogether too much blame is being placed upon the kids of today, and that more stringent measures should be taken in an endeavor to straighten out the twisted minds of our adults.

I am of the opinion that the City should have an ordinance which would enable the local police to arrest anyone who exercises that kind of carelessness and thereby encourages this social stigma we call juvenile delinquency. I cannot help but feel that the owner of a motor vehicle who leaves his car without removing the key should be summoned before the Police Magistrate and fined an amount according to the number of times the offense has been committed. I would highly recommend this procedure, and I say this sincerely because of my interest in youth.

Respectfully yours,
Henri Servais

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Jan. 28.—(P)—Hogs, cattle and sheep were quoted nominally steady today.

During the week hogs rose to their best prices since last October, reflecting in part more orderly marketing upon the part of producers. The Agriculture department noted it had not had to buy any pork to sustain the live hog price, as it was prepared to do two weeks ago. All types of hogs participated in the advance, but those weighing more than 220 pounds had the strongest tone. Gains in pork prices as the week closed served as another factor in sustaining the live animal quotation.

Slaughter steers and heifers ended the week around 50 cents lower than when they began, as receipts expanded one day and declined the next. Lambs lost around 50 cents as wholesale markets, particularly in the east, softened.

INFLUENZA
Tokyo, Jan. 28.—(P)—The Japanese welfare ministry said today there is an alarming spread of influenza in Japan. It reported there were 44,000 current cases among Japanese. American authorities said there had been a "moderate increase" among occupation personnel but all cases were mild and of short duration.

Crimsons Overwhelm Kincaid Quint 69-42; Williams Leads Offense

The Jacksonville high school Crimsons recovered their stride Saturday night and registered a 69-42 victory over the Ponies of Kincaid on the David Prince slats.

Bill Williams, high-scoring Crimson forward, recovered his balance along with the rest of the local quintet, tossing in 21 points to lead the Jacks, who were never headed by the stubborn Kincaid outfit.

The victory gave the Chapman school a season's record of 1-5. They had dropped the last two tussles before hitting the win column against the Ponies.

Williams scored ten of his points in the first quarter helping the locals go ahead 18-5 at the break.

Bradley Takes Mo. Valley Lead, Downs St. Louis

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—(P)—Bradley University took over the Missouri Valley conference lead with a 54-45 basketball triumph tonight over St. Louis University. It was the first conference defeat for the Billikens.

Bradley now has won four conference games and lost one, while the second-place Bills have a 3-1 Valley record. Tonikht's contest drew 11,188 fans, including a noisy Bradley minority.

The Bradley players were the more accurate shot-makers, hitting 21 field goals in 62 tries. They also outdid the Billikens in ball-hawking.

Time after time it was a red-shirted Bradley man, often Elmer Behnke, who grabbed a rebound.

The Peoria crew took over the lead midway in the second half and never relinquished it.

Behnke and Paul Uhrh shared scoring honors for Bradley with 13 points each. Lou Lehman paced the Billikens with 16.

Ex-Fighter Billy Conn Struck It Rich In Oil Well

Pittsburgh, Jan. 28.—(P)—Ex-fighter Billy Conn who twice failed to conquer the Brown Bomber has scored a financial knockout in the oil business.

"I've found something that's got the fight game beat a million times," Billy said today. "There's more money and more future in oil even if it is a gamble."

Three and a half years ago former heavyweight champion Joe Louis blasted Conn into unconsciousness and out of the ring. In their first fight in 1941, Conn whipped the champion up to the 13th round then was knocked out.

Now lucky oil investments have put the 33-year-old Irishman on easy street—a much smoother thoroughfare than he danced along as a pug. Conn himself is amazed by his new found wealth.

"I put a little money into an Oklahoma oil outfit just a year ago," he said, "I kept making more money and putting more back in. It didn't take long."

How much is he actually making? Conn, who chuckles over reports he's an out and out millionaire, won't say.

Anderson Resigns As Head Football Coach At Iowa U.

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 28.—(P)—The resignation of Dr. Eddie Anderson as head football coach at the University of Iowa was announced today.

Director of Athletics Dr. Paul Brechler said the resignation had been accepted.

Brechler said he knew that Anderson had been considering other offers but that he was not at liberty to reveal the nature or source of the offers.

Anderson, who came here in 1939 from Holy Cross to develop the famous "ironmen" led by the late All-American Nile Kinnick, had one year to go on his present contract. He was paid about $13,000 annually.

In announcing the resignation, Brechler said the board in control of athletics had opened negotiations for a new contract with the head coach in December. He said that Anderson had been offered a new four-year contract with an increase in salary subject to the approval of the state board of education.

The athletic director said Anderson had indicated to the staff committee of the board in control of athletics that he could not accept the offer without a promise of professional work and tenure at the university if he should step down as head coach.

The Jacksonville Journal Courier will furnish trophies for the first three place teams. This newspaper has made the trophy presentations in Morgan county grade tournament for the past several years.

Wednesday evening (Feb. 9) will see the three first-round battles played off. Meredosia and Chapin tangle at 6 p.m., Franklin and Murrayville at 7 p.m. and the host five will meet Woodson at 8 o'clock.

Gehrmann Edges Wilt To Win The Wanamaker Mile

New York, Jan. 28.—(P)—Don Gehrmann, the bespectacled University of Wisconsin star, flashed home ahead of the field to win the Wanamaker mile in the Millrose games tonight in 4:09.3.

But the finish was so close between Gehrmann and Fred Wilt, the New York A.C.'s FBI agent, that the official announcement was held up even after the time was given out.

Gehrmann started as though he were going to set a fast pace, but he merely was running according to his pre-arranged plan. He was ahead for a couple of laps, then gave up his spot to Wade, who faded at the end.

Wade held on for four laps, then yielded the lead to Twomey, who was not up to the torrid closing sprint of the two leaders.

The quarter clockings were 59.3 seconds, 2:04.1, and 3:08.5.

It was a split decision on the part of the judges but the way they voted was not revealed, nor were their names.

Riley and Bauer Enters Finals Of Doherty Tourney

Miami, Fla., Jan. 28.—(P)—Veteran campaigner Polly Riley and newcomer Marlene Bauer breezed into the finals of the 18th annual Helen Lee Doherty Women's Amateur Golf tournament today with 3 and 2 victories.

Marlene, the teenaged adopted daughter of Texas who won medalist honors with a 71, defeated Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio. Miss Riley, who last week on the Tampa Women's Open Golf tournament, turned back Edna Anderson of Helena, Mont. in the semi-finals.

Both finalists grabbed an early lead and held it throughout today's matches.

Marlene, 15-year-old charmer who was voted the woman athlete of 1949 in the annual Associated Press poll of sports editors, held a 3-up lead at the end of nine holes after carding even women's par 38 for the front side.

She and her 22-year-old sister, Alice, are making their first appearance in the Doherty. Alice was eliminated in the second round.

Playing in her fourth Doherty tournament, Miss Riley carded the best nine hole score thus far in the tourney with her blistering even men's par 36 on the front nine. Her opponent carded a 39.

The finalists meet in a grueling 36-hole duel tomorrow over the 6,347-yard Miami Country Club course. Women's par for the course is 38-38-76.

Noted Baseball Executive Dies

Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 28.—(P)—Blake Harper, nationally known baseball executive who helped develop the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system and a flock of star players, died today. He was 60.

Harper died in Methodist hospital here after an illness of several months. Ailing health had forced him to retire from baseball activities two years ago.

Friends said Harper had suffered from a head injury since youth.

WESTERN TEACHERS SCORE OVERTIME WIN, 68-65

Macomb, Ill., Jan. 28.—(P)—Western Illinois State scored its 31st straight home basketball victory tonight with a thrilling 68-65 overtime triumph over Southern Illinois university in I.A.C. play.

The extra session resulted after Southern's Bob Kissack popped in a long one-handed shot with 15 seconds of regulation time left to tie the score at 60-60.

EMPIRE BARR RETIRES

Sanford, Fla., Jan. 28.—(P)—George Barr, National league umpire for 19 years, announced his retirement today. Barr, dean of the senior staff, did not disclose future plans.

Gold Night At The Hoop Blamed For Loss; Howie DeGroot Injured

Millikin became the uncontested leader of the CCI basketball conference here Saturday night when they unleashed a furious second-half scoring attack to whip the runner-up Illinois College Blueboy quintet 60-49.

Leading 24-23 at halftime, Al Miller's Hilltoppers fell off badly at the hoop after intermission time and couldn't keep up with the hot shooting visitors from Decatur. The Blueboys rang up a low 190 percentage from the field while the Decaturites were firing at the hoop at a 400 rate.

Howie DeGroot, Illinois College reserve forward, sustained a serious shoulder injury early in the B squad game. No official information was available late last night but unofficial sources believe that his left shoulder may be broken.

The loss dropped the Hilltoppers with a 2-2 mark to fourth place in Little Nine standings behind Millikin, Wheaton and Illinois Wesleyan. They are tied with Lake Forest, who also owns a 500 record. Millikin leads the league with a 4-1 standing, followed by Wheaton with a 2-1 rating and Ill. Wesleyan with a 3-2 mark.

Always bitter rivals in any sport, the two college teams fought through 40 minutes of rough and tumble basketball. Two Millikin cagers, Sarra and Murray, were ejected from the game with five fouls. Don Longer collected a maximum of personals for the Blueboys.

Staggall, Millikin forward of all-conference fame, was held partially in check by the tight-guarding Hilltoppers. The stocky little speedster threw in ten points the first half and nipped the second to pace the visitors with 19 tallies. "Pappy" Ormond, sizzling Decatur center, added 17 useful points for the Millikin total.

Bill Shouse, who guarded Staggall, threw in 14 points for the locals. Bill Gross and Bob Grove scored 11 each and Don Longer collected eight.

Bob Grove, who injured his right shoulder in practice Friday night, played the entire game although it was apparent to the packed house that he was handicapped considerably. Millikin rosters, 300 strong, helped make the crowd the largest for Illinois College this year. Approximately 1400 fans jammed the big I.S.D. gymnasium.

The defeat was but the second sustained by the battling Blueboys in two seasons on their home floor. Their up to date record for the season is 11-5.

A brief scoring summary of the game: Bill Shouse collected the first three points for IC when he was fouled making a field goal good. Gross added a second fielder and the locals led 5-2.

Two goals by Staggall put the visitors out front 6-5 before Bob Grove tied it up with a free throw. Staggall and Ormond made it 12-6 for Millikin before the Blueboys fought back up on baskets by Grove and Gross.

Tied at 12-12, Gross rang a gift toss and the Blueboys were moving. They led 19-13 before Millikin fought back up 23-23, mainly because of Ormond's work. Gross hit from the line and IC led 24-23 at halftime.

Staggall, Ormond, Sarra and Althoff popped in that order to throw Millikin ahead 31-25 immediately after the second half got underway. Vilk Grove and Longer helped the Blueboys pull up 36-33 before Millikin speared ahead 43-39 and took command of the game.

Unable to catch the fast-breaking, close-guarding invaders the locals never quit trying and the game ended with the Blueboys under both bank boards fighting doggedly for the rebound.

Blueboy's Win 54-43

Joe Brooks, Illinois College B squad inspired when Howie DeGroot was injured early in the game, came from behind to whip the Millikin seconds 54-43 in the preliminary.

Fritchton upset Brazil's husky Red Devils, the 1943 winners, 37-31. The finalists were small-town representatives but both quintets were built around exceptionally tall centers.

Fritchton's Dave Gray, 6-foot-7, scored 17 points as the Knox County club ran up a 20-10 lead over Brazil at the half and outlasted a Red Devil rally.

Glenn, a Terre Haute preliminary winner, featured the sharpshooting and rebounding of Charley session, 6-6. He tallied 25 points against Clinton, giving him 65 for his first three games in the finals.

EAST BEATS NORTH 64-44

DeKalb, Ill., Jan. 28.—(P)—Eastern Illinois State won its fourth straight I. I. A. C. basketball victory tonight with a 64-44 decision over Northern Illinois State.

Unbeaten in conference play, Eastern now has a 12-1 record for the entire season. Center Tom Katsampalis paced Eastern with 29 points.

PROCLAIMED INVALID

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 28.—(P)—Nationalist China today proclaimed invalid any secret or open agreement which may be signed between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

The Nationalists also said the Russians would be held responsible for "any and all consequences" arising from violation of the Chinese-Soviet treaty of 1945.

As if having a team in the finals of the PMBC tournament at ISD Friday night weren't enough, Tom McKinney, young Mt. Sterling assistant coach, had double worries. His wife—also J. Merle Wade's sister—was in the hospital. Reason: A birth announcement in Friday's paper read: "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinney of Hersman, Ill., are the parents of a son born at Passavant hospital at 1:51 a. m. Saturday." "He'll never be the athlete his old man was at Perry high school if he makes such late hours a habit."

Big college game—now that the Millikin scrap is over—for Jacksonville fans should be the Blueboy-Quincy encounter at ISD Feb. 13. Connie Hanley, ex-Routt hardwood ace, is a member in good standing of the Gem City club thereby giving local followers a two-fold purpose for seeing the game.

Speaking of district tournaments, Paul Stroud's Routt Rockets must play in the preliminary meet for the first time since 1942, this year. Reason, Franklin replaces Routt in the Virginia regional since the east Morgan county school jumped to 140 enrollment with consolidation.

Demaret Still 2 Strokes Ahead In Ben Hogan Tourney

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 28.—(P)—Jimmy Demaret scrambled to score a two-under-par 69 here today and held a two stroke lead in the $10,000 Ben Hogan Open golf tournament with 200 for 54 holes.

He needed that subpar game to stay ahead of Chicago's Ellsworth Vines, who surged in tying the competitive course record with a 64 and a third round total of 202.

Johnny Palmer, Badin, S. C., who ranked right back of Jimmy yesterday, dropped into a third place tie with Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with 204.

Palmer shot even par 71 golf today while slamin' Sammy was two under.

Demaret was cautious as he lined up a 12-footer for his birdie on the final hole today. He needed that shot and sank it with precision. The dapper pro from Ojai, Calif., hasn't won top money since beating Ben Hogan in a playoff here last year.

Hogan ran into tree trouble today and skidded far down the list with a 73. That gave him a 211 for the 54 holes and left him out of the running.

Cleveland, Jan. 28.—(P)—Third baseman Kenny Keltner and pitcher Satchel Paige probably have played their last game for the Cleveland Indians, insiders said today.

In fact, one excellent source close to the tribe's front office said both of them already are on the waiver list along with Mike Tresh, infielder Johnny Berardino and outfielder Thurman Tucker.

General Manager Hank Greenberg refused to name names. But he did say the time for trades has about passed and that some of the older players will have to make way for the rookies.

First-Time Winner Assured In 35th Wabash Tourney

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 28.—(P)—A first-time winner was assured in the 35th Wabash Valley high school basketball tournament today as Glenn's Pirates and Fritchton's Eagles roared through the semifinals.

Glenn knocked off a shorter team from Clinton, the 1921 valley champ, 46-33.

Fritchton upset Brazil's husky Red Devils, the 1943 winners, 37-31. The finalists were small-town representatives but both quintets were built around exceptionally tall centers.

Fritchton's Dave Gray, 6-foot-7, scored 17 points as the Knox County club ran up a 20-10 lead over Brazil at the half and outlasted a Red Devil rally.

The bottom of the basketball schedules are moving up fast. Already district tournament teams are pointing for the big moment when they'll battle each other for a chance to move into faster company. Jacksonville high and Routt have three home games remaining; ISD has five and Illinois College four.

Speaking of district tournaments, Paul Stroud's Routt Rockets must play in the preliminary meet for the first time since 1942, this year. Reason, Franklin replaces Routt in the Virginia regional since the east Morgan county school jumped to 140 enrollment with consolidation.

Big college game—now that the Millikin scrap is over—for Jacksonville fans should be the Blueboy-Quincy encounter at ISD Feb. 13. Connie Hanley, ex-Routt hardwood ace, is a member in good standing of the Gem City club thereby giving local followers a two-fold purpose for seeing the game.

As if having a team in the finals of the PMBC tournament at ISD Friday night weren't enough, Tom McKinney, young Mt. Sterling assistant coach, had double worries. His wife—also J. Merle Wade's sister—was in the hospital. Reason: A birth announcement in Friday's paper read: "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinney of Hersman, Ill., are the parents of a son born at Passavant hospital at 1:51 a. m. Saturday." "He'll never be the athlete his old man was at Perry high school if he makes such late hours a habit."

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt Copyright 1950 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Alice Pine, recently engaged as literary secretary to the popular writer, Muriel Halleck, is aware of a strange tension between Muriel and her husband, Brent, an artist, Muriel accuses Brent of acting like a "spoiled baby" and she cannot understand why Brent is so perpetually disgruntled. But Alice is too busy to do much thinking about it. One day Muriel gives Alice an afternoon off and Alice goes to the village of Tolliver nearby to play golf. Here she meets a tall woman who suggests they play together.

VI
ALICE PINE saw the scrutiny of her new acquaintance. "I don't believe I've seen you around here before? Are you new here?"
"Yes," Alice replied. She was about to explain when the tall woman extended a large hand. "I'm Molly Tremayne. And you?"
Alice took the hand and gave her name.
"All right, Alice," Molly Tremayne said. "Nice to know you. Now let's get out of this filthy rough."

Alice addressed her ball. Despite her difficult lie, there came a satisfying click.
"Hey!" said Molly Tremayne enviously. "What are you, a pro?"
They advanced slowly, due to Molly's vigorous but uncertain efforts. Alice didn't care. She had plenty of time and the day was wonderful, the sun high and strong and a salt-laden breeze whipping off the Sound.
"Now here," Molly said, on the seventh tee. "Is what you golfers—the appeared to have conceived a marked respect for Alice's game—'call a dog's leg. And it's your honor as usual. Watch those confounded trees, my dear!"
The trees jotted out into the course some 150 yards from the tee. The fairway bent around them. Alice, head well down, swung. The smack of club against ball was neat, sweet.
Alice lifted her head. She saw the ball, sailing along the edge of the fairway. Simultaneously, a figure emerged from the trees and started across the golf course.
"Fore!" Alice yelled.

It was an unnecessary precaution. Her shot was missing that ambling figure by 20 yards or more.
If the man heard, he didn't bother to look up or change his direction. Eyes straight ahead and hands in pockets, he plodded on across the fairway.
But, even at the distance, there was something familiar about the droop of his shoulders. Alice put her club back in her golf bag.
"My Heavens! He'd have been nobody for me to hit."
"If you ask me," grunted Molly, advancing to the tee, "he'd have been just the person."
Alice started. "You know him?"
"Of course," Molly teed her ball. "I've known that grouchy for years."
Alice waited while Molly drove. Then she spoke: "I should have told you at the beginning that I'm Mrs. Halleck's secretary."
"You are, eh?" Molly Tremayne regarded her interestedly. "Well, I heard Muriel had one. And more power to you. That little woman needs help."
Wondering what prompted that remark, Alice said: "Well, I work exclusively with Mrs. Halleck. I'm hardly more than acquainted with Brent—with her husband."
Molly shrugged. "I used to know Brent well. And as a boy, he was a peach. But he seems to have come back from the war with some kind of complex."
"Was he wounded?" Alice asked.
"No. There's just no visible reason why he's—well, withdrawn from everybody. Everybody, that is!" Molly pursed her lips—"except that worthless Chuck Wisner, who's got more money than brains."

"I haven't met Chuck Wisner."
"That's because he's loafing in Bermuda. But you will. He and Brent are thick as molasses."

Alice restrained herself from trying to pump a total stranger. But the remark about Muriel needing help was provocative. The prolific and popular "Jo Fairgrave" did not appear at all in need of assistance.
"Mr. Halleck's rather a good painter, isn't he?" Alice finally did ask.
"I wouldn't know. I haven't seen much of Brent for some time. They say he used to do good things. But I hear that he doesn't work much any more. Just shambles around, like he's doing now. Of course," she added, "I'm only giving you village chitchat."

It was clear, however, that Molly Tremayne did not approve of Brent.
Molly's principal objection to him, it seemed, was the fact that he did not shoulder his responsibilities. Of course, Molly pointed out, it was all right for Muriel to have a career, but after all the man in the family should do something toward keeping the bills paid. As far as Molly herself had been able to discover, the little work that Brent did hardly paid for the drinks he was continually buying his crotchety Chuck Wisner.

Thinking it over later, Alice persuaded herself to be glad that Molly had not amplified her remarks. She had to live at the Hallecks indefinitely. No doubt, the less she knew about their private lives, the better.
But presently Alice Pine found still another interest in the Halleck family. It was the small, taffy-haired Rick.

Noted Violist To Play Concert Here Feb. 1

William Primrose, who will be heard on Feb. 1 at the Annie Merner Chapel of MacMurray College, is the man who has popularized the viola as a solo concert instrument. Time magazine hails him as "the world's finest viola player." The concert will be at 8:15 o'clock.

"The extraordinary Mr. Primrose" — as critic Olin Downes of the New York Times calls him — was born in Glasgow, Scotland. The viola, not the violin, was his first instrument and he was only ten when he made a first public appearance in the Men-delsohn Violin Concerto. In 1923 Primrose made his London debut, playing with the Royal Albert Hall orchestra.

With London Quartet

It was Ysaye, the great Belgian violinist, who encouraged Primrose to give up the violin and to follow his inclination to become a violist. His new career, auspiciously begun, was interrupted by a cable from the London String Quartet. The group then in the United States, was faced with a crisis. Their violist was ill, a big tour was booked. Could Primrose sail at once? He could and did.

In 1937 the new NBC symphony was formed in New York by Toscanini. The solo instrumentalists were hand-picked and the posts were considered prizes. While looking for a head of the viola section, officials of NBC heard a recording of Primrose playing a Paganini Caprice. They immediately wired Primrose to come to New York to be Toscanini's chief viola player. Primrose came, this time to stay permanently in America.

Now A Soloist

In 1942 Primrose left the orchestra to devote all his time to solo work. Among Primrose's recent appearances with major orchestras have been four with the Philadelphia orchestra under Ormandy; four with the Boston Symphony under Koussevitzky, etc.

Following his 80-anniversary U.S.-Canadian season, Primrose toured Central and South America last summer. He played in eleven countries.

The week following his recital in Jacksonville Mr. Primrose will be soloist with the NBC symphony orchestra in the first performance of a Barok Concerto for Viola.

Reports 41 Billion Needed To Repair Roads In Nation

Washington, Jan. 28.—A report to Congress today said it would cost about $41,000,000,000 to put the nation's highways and streets in good shape.

Putting the roads in good condition would "provide a stimulus to all business and industry for years to come," said Senator O'Mahoney, D-Wyo., observing that it would require years to carry out.

The highway report was prepared by the staff of the Senate-Economic Committee. O'Mahoney is chairman of the committee.

In submitting the documents to Congress, O'Mahoney said information from each of the 48 states showed that $23,044,630,320 would be needed to correct the present deficiencies of state highways alone. He added:

"An additional $10,400,000,000 will be needed to bring county and local rural roads up to present-day requirements. City and village streets, if adequate to meet the needs of our modern national economy, would require the expenditure of an additional $7,700,000,000."

The report contained no recommendations on how to carry out the program. It only cited the need.

Marian Ruth Ranson, Dean V. Seymour Wed

College Chapel Scene Of Rites Sunday, Jan. 22

In an impressive double ring ceremony at Annie Merner Chapel of MacMurray College at 4 p.m. Sunday Miss Marian Ruth Ranson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Viron Ranson of Franklin, became the bride of Dean V. Seymour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Seymour of Franklin.

Rev. Justin Washburn of that city performed the rites, assisted by Dr. Clarence P. McClelland, president of the college.

The swing band of MacMurray College played soft music during the reception.

Both Of Local Schools

The bride attended local schools and graduated as an honor student from Franklin Community high school. She is a junior at MacMurray, where she is a member of the choir and of Epsilon Kappa Phi.

Mr. Seymour attended local schools and received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from the University of Illinois. He served as second lieutenant in World War II. For the past two years he has been superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school.

For traveling Mrs. Seymour chose a delectable blue dress with gray accessories and a white orchid corsage. After a wedding trip to California and New Mexico, the couple will be at home at Franklin, where the groom is associated in farming with his father.

A number of guests attended the wedding from distant points, including St. Louis, Alton, Villa Grove, Waterville, Chicago, Milwaukee, Wis.; Boston, Mass.; Elkhart, Ind.; and Terre Haute, Ind.; and Cando, N. D.

The altar was decorated with two large baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons flanked with huckleberry trees and a railing of green. Four candelabra adorned the altar.

Proceeding the ceremony Hugh Beggs of the college faculty presented a short piano recital. After the lighting of the candles by William Ransdell and David Wilson, James Welch sang "Because" and "I Love Thee," and following the prayer he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. Beggs played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bluish pink slipper satin designed on lines of classic simplicity. The sculptured bodice was fashioned with a jewel neckline, and the sleeves were long and tapered. The tiered skirt, gently flaring to a full hem, was self-corded and fell in train. Her finger veil was of nylon illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis showered in white.

Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. The maid of honor was Miss Kathryn Ann Seymour of Franklin. She chose a floor length gown of honey satin, the bodice snugly fitted below a draped shawl collar, the skirt shirred at the hips to give a slightly puffed effect, and having a softly gathered panel falling over the simply designed back. The short mitts were of matching satin. She carried a bouquet of blue iris showered with blue.

The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Wunnenberg of St. Louis and Miss Barbara Buchholz of Melvin, Ill., wore like gowns of rust and frost green satin. A small fitted jacket with a softly draped shawl collar topped the fitted bodice, and the full flowing skirt fell from a snug fitted waist. Miss Buchholz's bouquet was of azalea pink feathered carnations showered with pink, and Miss Wunnenberg carried a bouquet of yellow feathered carnations showered with yellow.

Attend Bridgroom

Ogle Love, Jr., of Roseclaire served as best man and ushers were James Ranson, brother of the bride, William Ransdell, Clyde Smith, cousin of the bridegroom, all of this city, and David Wilson of Franklin. They were dressed in formal attire with white carnation boutonnieres.

Bobby Darley of Franklin, ring bearer, wore a brown wool suit and white carnation boutonniere. He carried the wedding ring on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Ranson, mother of the bride, was attired in a dark blue crepe faille dress with gray accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Seymour, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray crepe faille dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Hold Reception At Lounge

The wedding was followed by a reception at the Ann Rutledge lounge, which was decorated with baskets of cut flowers. A most tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, was cut by the couple, then served by Mrs. Ogle.
